Old computers contain hazardous amounts of toxic heavy metals including lead, cadmium and mercury, and it is critical to the environment to keep these materials out of our landfills. It is illegal in California to dispose of Televisions or Computer Monitors in a landfill. Doing so could expose you to heavy fines or criminal charges.* Future regulations will forbid the disposal of any electronic devices in landfills.

Through 100% environmentally friendly disposal, Santa Barbara Computer Recycling helps keep these dangerous components out of the landfill. Components of value are sold for reuse. Remaining scraps are then properly recycled via SB 20 approved recyclers. All hard drives are wiped clean of data using Department of Defense approved software.
